END NOTES

Notes from the Director -

I am extremely proud of how all the students worked as a team at all different age levels to bring the production together. It takes time, effort, and dedication for students to know the parts, dances, back drops and timing. Theater is such a unique performing art I am thrilled these students had the chance to experience this. A true production needs team work and we have had the best team work.

As Shakespeare once said, "What's done is done. The joy is in the doing." I hope your students had as much joy putting this show together as I did.

Thank You!

With Tiger, Theatrical, and Musical Pride,

Mrs. Vincitore
