A Note From The Director:

Hello & welcome to my first “Monster Bash” production! The goal of this performance is to join BDA students & other community performers into one show so we can share the Thrill of the arts with each other in our beautiful Williamsburg. The power of performance is a passion for all of us. I strive to provide many yearly performance opportunities for my students. This show is special to me since a Halloween show opens a new world of movement for my dancers. They have expanded their dance knowledge and performance opportunities, and they have taken these new roles with great pleasure! It has been such a treat choreographing these numbers & teaching them to the performers. I am blown away by the performers you will see today.

On a personal note, I have the honor to perform today, which I love. This will be my son’s first show. He is three years old and debuting as a “bat”! His daddy Justin Tubach in heaven is looking down at us both with a big smile. If he could only see us now!

We know you will be blessed by the show, entertained & spooked for the season!

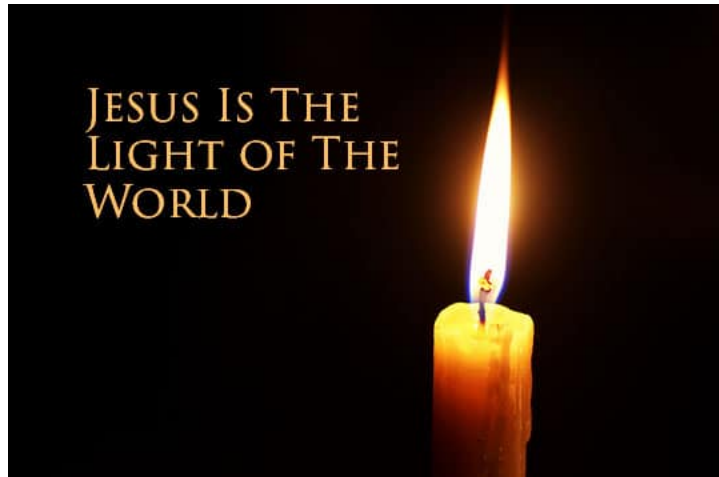

To my fellow performers: Do not strive for perfection but strive for a great performance. No one and nothing is perfect but Jesus Christ. Use your imperfections to showcase your improvisational skills in the spotlight this evening. Every single one of you is amazing & I love you all!! Break a leg, not really!

Thank you!

Sincerely,
Jasmine Tubach

Dedication

“Monster Bash” is dedicated to Jesus. For HE is the light that shines in the darkness. Jesus, may your light shine in all of us every day & in this show. God bless you & God bless America!

Special Guests

“Monster Bash” has numerous community leaders performing together. Get to know your performers, choreographers & special guests:

Jasmine Tubach, was born and raised in Williamsburg, Virginia. Miss. Jasmine is the owner of Broadway Dance Arts. Miss. Jasmine graduated in 2015 with her Bachelor of Arts from James Madison University (JMU) with a dual major in Dance & Sociology. She traveled & performed in DC, West Virginia & China with JMU’s pre-professional Company “Virginia Repertory Dance Company”. While at JMU Miss. Jasmine received numerous choreography awards & scholarships in the dance program.

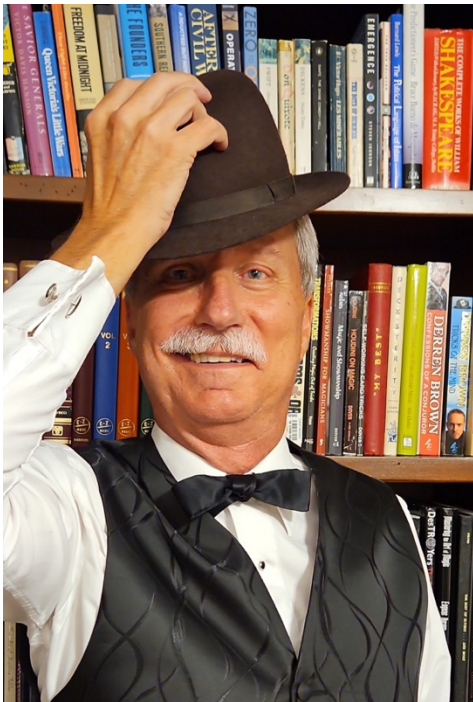

After graduation she became a member of “RVA Dance Collective,” a professional modern dance company in Richmond. She was a part of this company until Covid hit. In 2020, Miss. Jasmine’s husband Justin Tubach was in a sudden & fatal car crash on the way home from Miss. Jasmine’s performance in Richmond. Miss. Jasmine was 17 weeks pregnant with their first child when her beloved Justin passed away. Out of this horrific tragedy, God made a way to bring beauty out of ashes. A door opened for Miss. Jasmine to take over the beautiful Broadway Dance Arts, to begin the KÉKAY Alternative preschool, and to build a beautiful life for her and her son, Jackson.

Everyday Miss. Jasmine uses her love of the arts & passion of early childhood development to pour into countless children of Williamsburg, all in honor of the Late Justin Tubach.

Hug your loved ones tight, dance in the rain & forgive often. Life is too short; let’s all be “just in motion” together.

Kathy Lamb, a renowned artist, movie maker, and entertainer was born and raised in the Washington, D.C. area. She has danced on and off since kindergarten through to her 20's, including tap, ballet, modern and jazz. She attended undergraduate and graduate school, and she has lived in New Mexico and Oregon. She has worked in different fields, including real estate appraising, counseling, association management, and healthcare advocacy.

She loves to dance, sing, produce movies, and entertain. She is also an artist in soft pastel. She and her husband, Terry Ricks, retired to Williamsburg in 2014.

Steve Mains, is a magician living in Williamsburg. He came to magic late in life, as he says he wasted the first 54 years, but he makes up for it by performing regularly. He performs in Magic ala Carte, a local magic-dinner theater. They are hosting an annual charity benefit a “Friends and Family Show”. The group full of local magicians will share their most favorite, beloved, and special tricks they reserve for close friends and family. This show will be collecting donations for the Williamsburg House of Mercy and the Lackey Free Clinic. The show this year will be on November 21st at 3PM located at the King of Glory Lutheran Church. We hope you can attend!

Desmin Taylor, is a dancer, teacher, and choreographer based in Richmond, Virginia who began his dance journey late starting in 2014. He quickly developed a passion for taking classes and meeting different dancers throughout the RVA and North Carolina dance community participating in many classes, intensives, and workshops in various styles of dance including hip hop, modern, contemporary, jazz, and more.

It wasn't until 2016 when Desmin made the drastic decision to move from the IT field in web development to pursue dance as a career choice. Though it was a sudden change that he had to adapt to quickly, it was the best decision he had ever made. Desmin has trained and performed for several years with various dance companies, such as Blank Canvas of VCU, Pace Setters Dance, RVA Dance Collective, and Studio 4 Dance Agency. These companies allowed him to perform in places like New Jersey, Atlanta, North Carolina and even West Virginia. Desmin works as an instructor at multiple dance studios including Marianne Kelley School of Dance, The Dance Company, and Richmond Urban Dance where he teaches jazz, lyrical, contemporary, and hip hop. He is heavily involved in competition dance as well as teaching open community classes open to all levels.

Desmin continues to seek training, teaching, and performance opportunities wherever they appear and is more than eager to give back to the community that continues to teach him so much.

Alex Vitale is an author and playwright who loves all things spooky. She can most often be found working on her writing with her cat Schrödinger sitting on her lap. Alex is a senior at Christopher Newport University and strives to combine her studies of history with her writing. She also writes for the Uncommon Commons podcast, an anthology horror show. "104.8" is the first time that Alex's work has been performed on stage, and she is looking forward to the opportunity.

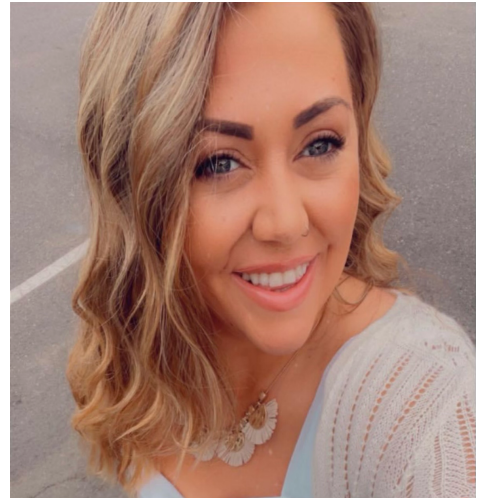

Corene Connor, was born and raised in Long Island, New York. She grew up dancing with her family and friends- even her mom and aunts! She has been dancing for over 30 years and teaching for over 25 years. She was trained and taught at Ginny Santangelo Dance Center which was renamed Dreams, Believe, Achieve Dance in 2011. She continued to teach there until she moved to Toano, VA in 2014. Being so close to New York City, Miss. Corene was able to attend many master classes at Broadway Dance Center. Her dance studio also brought in many master classes- including tap choreographer Mike Miner and "Tap Dogs" Anthony Locasico. Although tap has always been her favorite Miss. Corene loves all styles and has taught jazz, ballet, lyrical and tap of many years. The dance studio has always been a "second home" for her and she even choreographed her oldest daughter's first recital dance. Miss. Corene has always tried to make sure her students and daughters enjoy every moment of dancing. This is something very important to Miss. Corene. "Dance is hard work- it's blood, sweat and tears. If there's no enjoyment of it, you're not going to stick with it!!" she says. Miss. Corene had such a positive dance environment growing up and loves providing that same atmosphere in her classes. She is so excited to be back to teaching after having her second daughter, Sadie. "I am very grateful to be a part of the BDA family and to have both my dancers enrolled in such an amazing studio!"

Kimberley Booker Hundley, before retiring in 2020, Kimberley taught kindergarten for 36 years. She and her husband moved to Williamsburg in 1996 and have 2 adult children. Her love of dance started when she performed in ballet as a child, and she was on the James Madison University Dukettes Dance Team in the 80's. She periodically performs praise dance at Jamestown Christian Fellowship Church. Kimberley is involved in seven community groups, substituting in local private preschools and is currently serving on the WJCC School Board. Her greatest joy is attending and supporting the fine arts programs in the schools such as drama, music, and art shows. She believes children can be equally talented in arts, sports and academics.

Alexa Leigh, has been a singer for most of her life. Performing on stage with her da ((Anthony Lee Wood) and sister (Shana Wood) around the Hampton Roads area. Alexa is compassionate and loves with all her heart. She is currently a single mom to her three beautiful daughters who are all talented like their momma. She lives her life for God, her sobriety of almost 5 years, and her family. She brings a smile to everyone she encounters. She is excited to be a part of the Broadway Dance Arts “Monster Bash”!
