END NOTES

Note From the Director:

Dear Holy Family Catholic School and Parish Community,

Thank you for this wonderful opportunity to direct Annie. The cast has worked for months to share the story of Annie with all of you. I am so unbelievably proud of the work the students have accomplished. Thank you to everyone involved in creating this production. I would especially like to thank the Annie cast parents, grandparents, Holy Family Catholic Church parish community members -Stitch in Time, HF Choir, HF Mom's Group, Greg LoBuono (my husband), Jackie Moran (my mom), Cheryl Craddock, Alejandro Naranjo, and Mackenzie Snook. As a newer parishioner to Holy Family Catholic Parish (almost 3 years), the incredible church volunteers are truly the ones who made this production possible. And lastly, but certainly not least, my family. Your love and overwhelming support is what helped me throughout this entire process. I love you and am so proud of you, Guy and JJ!

The Annie musical has been a part of my life as a performer, educator, and director since the age of 6. The strong impactful message of Annie has always resonated with me, and I am sure it will do the same for you. The sun will always come out tomorrow. Faith over fear. Enjoy the performance!

God Bless,
Ms. Monica

Kenneth M Crespo Brito

AV Tech/Sound

Growing up in a family of musicians, I've always taken pride in the evolution of our playstyle, passed down through generations. Music was always a part of my life, but I knew my path wouldn't be as a performer—it would be behind the scenes, ensuring every note, every beat, and every word was heard exactly as intended. Over the years, I've worked alongside celebrities, social media influencers, and industry professionals, gaining hands-on experience in high-level production. But beyond the big names and large events, my true motivation came from my Catholic faith and devotion to music. I wanted to create a company that not only delivers professional AV services but also ensures that music and sound are enjoyed without limits, free from technical frustrations.
