PRODUCTION NOTE

Welcome to our production of The Government Inspector by Nikolai Gogol, presented as the culminating project for our Cambridge AICE Drama course. This performance represents the students' deep engagement with the course's assessment objectives: demonstrating knowledge and understanding of theatrical craft, performing with intention and clarity, and exploring style, context, and genre. Gogol's farce is a whirlwind of mistaken identities, bureaucratic panic, and exaggerated characters offers a unique contrast to much of the realism in modern theatre. Its absurdity is not only hilarious but deliberately disorienting, leaving characters (and audiences!) scrambling to keep up. Through this bold and stylized work, our students have explored the intricacies of farce, honing their skills in timing, physicality, and ensemble performance.
