By: Freshman Theatre 1 Period 1

Play Intro: Inspired by the movie Groundhog and Film Noir, Amor Fati merges worlds to teach a single lesson- one cannot run from fate. Set in four decades (1944, 1984, 2024, and 2064), Guy wakes up in his home to find that though the same day replays, time rapidly moves forward.

Director's Note

The process of creating the show was a difficult one, but it was well worth it in the end. Both Tech and Actors put 100% into their jobs and made the show a wonderful sight to behold. Being a director of this show has been amazing and everyone did an amazing job doing their part to bring our vision to life.

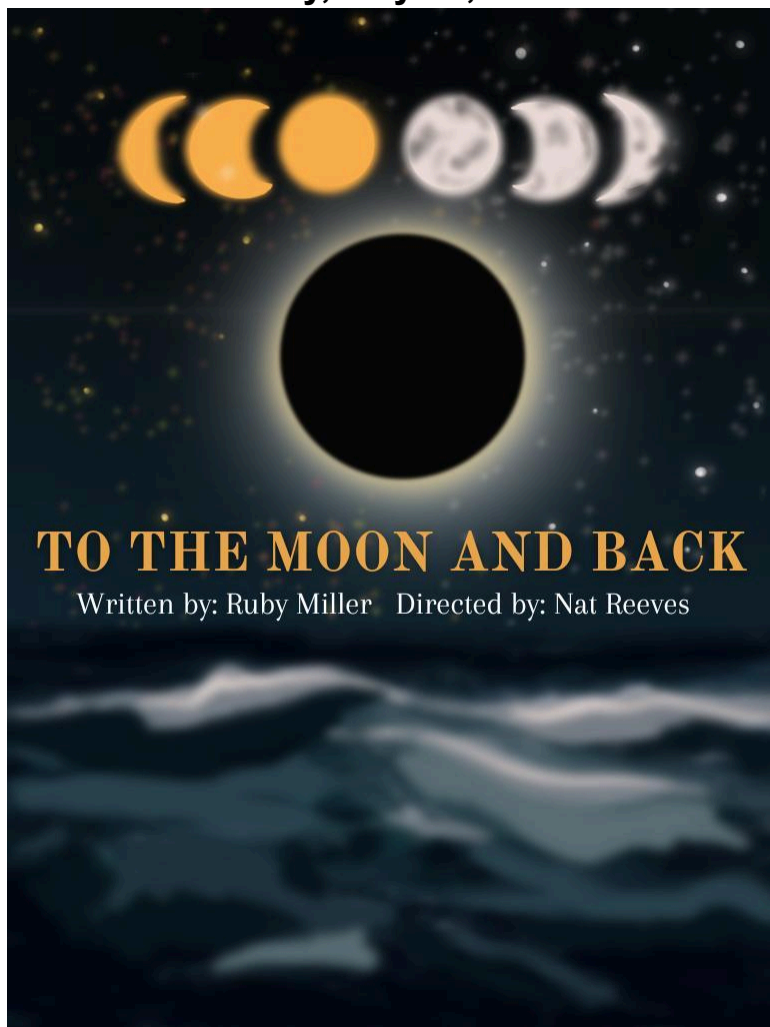

- Co-Director Henry Jurman

At the beginning of this school year I couldn't have imagined myself surrounded by such talented people that I would gladly call my friends. Not only that, but having the privilege to help make this play happen is an honor. Throughout the weeks the cast and crew have worked hard to make something that all of the people experiencing the play could not only enjoy but question the true meaning of fate. Passing through the times of old to the far future, Amor Fati truly is a twist of events in only 25 minutes and I am proud to be a part of it.

Regards,

Co-Director Ezra Matchett

Director's Note

This show has been such a fun project to do. For my first time directing something I'm really proud of what we made, I mean one freshman class made an entrance one act in about two and a half months. I am so thankful for my tech crew for being able to make this show come to life with the limited resources that we had, and for all my actors who really tried hard to be the best actors they could be. Now this show may not look like much, and to some it may not be but it is amazing what we were able to accomplish and I hope that everyone involved in this is able to walk away being proud of what they did. So please, I hope you enjoy our show entitled Tangency.
